

Heart Attack

A heart attack is caused by a lack of blood supply to the heart muscle. The lack of blood supply happens when one or more of the blood vessels supplying the heart muscle are blocked.

Coumadin[®]/warfarin:

- Decreases the chance of clot formation.
- Helps blood flow easier.